TWO AGED EMPLOYEES

Washington, March 25.—Secretary McAdoo today wrote to Thomas C. Bailey and Thomas P. Keene, employees in the office of the interior department.

What is Woman's Beauty but Health

And the Basis of Her Health and Vigor Lies in the Careful Regulation of the Bowels.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics, every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health, in the majority of cases the basis of health, and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels. The headache, the lassitude, the malaise, and the listlessness, are usually due to constipation. No many things that women do habitually contribute to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible food because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But it is important that the condition be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly, among them Mrs. C. S. Vance, of 111 Bay St., New Castle, Pa. At times she has spells of indigestion and is aware that she should have a good laxative, but she has not been able to find one that suits her. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of women give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who are afflicted with indigestion, constipation, headache, nervousness, catarrhs, pills or purgatives. These facts would be avoided for fear their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts on the bowels permanently. It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. It is in taste and free from gripping and the tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative-remedy in America today and thousands of families are no longer without it.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle, or obtain it by mail, should send this advertisement to Dr. J. C. Caldwell, Washington St., Monticello, Va. A postal card with your name and address, on it will do.

BUSINESS MEN BLAMED
FOR LOSS OF MEMBERS
BY THE FIFTH REGIMENT

The business men of Atlanta by their objection to their employees serving in the national guard of the state are held responsible for the destruction of the Fifth regiment from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and from the Fifth regiment at the chamber quarters Wednesday afternoon.

The joint committees will meet again next Friday for the purpose of defining a line of action whereby this difficulty may be overcome and the regiment saved for Atlanta. It was explained at Wednesday's meeting that owing to a marked disinclination on the part of employers to encourage their employees to enlist in the national guard, the Fifth regiment has just been able to obtain men enough to maintain the full complement of companies necessary to the maintenance of the regiment. The loss of a single company, it was stated, will mean the end of the regiment.

The committee from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which was formerly available to fill out the companies for the Fifth regiment, can no longer be relied upon for the purpose. This means, then, that the loss of one company will leave one of the battalions of the Fifth regiment without a company. In the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, it is stated, the Fifth regiment, with a company at its head, but will become a number of detached battalions and companies. The major and captain, J. Leamy, of the joint committee, said: "The value of an efficient national guard to Atlanta has been demonstrated on no more than one occasion when the military rendered splendid service to the city during the strike, and the committee is of the opinion that the unanimous view that something should be done at once to change the condition of things. It will be the purpose of the joint committee to inaugurate a campaign of both publicity and further investigation for a maintenance of a well-disciplined military organization to absolutely essential to the welfare of the community. It is felt by the committee that every encouragement should be given to the organization in its efforts for service. The call of any duty it may be required to perform."

The committee from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which was formerly available to fill out the companies for the Fifth regiment, can no longer be relied upon for the purpose. This means, then, that the loss of one company will leave one of the battalions of the Fifth regiment without a company. PROBE TELEGRAMS
SENT FROM NEWARK

Messages Signed "John Black" Received by James Conley and Others Will Be Investigated.

Detectives and attorneys in the Frank case are investigating the source of numerous telegrams that have come from Newark, N. J., signed "John Black," which the investigators believe are evidence of a conspiracy against Detective John Black, of police headquarters, one of the most conspicuous figures in the prosecution of Les Frank.

One of these telegrams was sent to Jim Conley, the negro prisoner, and accused him of being a "fake detective." The Constitution's telegram was a similar message, and asked that it be delivered to Conley.

Immediately upon receipt of the telegram, which came to Detective William M. Smith, the negro's counsel, consulted with Detective Black. Black averred to the attorney that an attempt was being made to "frank up" on him.

Black has been repeatedly attacked in newly discovered evidence secured by the defense. He was one of the most active figures in the investigation of the Phagan murder mystery by police headquarters.

It is said that the police of Newark, N. J., are now investigating the source of the telegrams. The investigation is being conducted by the Newark police department.

ments, all of them permanent, all of them the demands of growth. Every other progressive American city finances these needs by use of its credit. No one has yet accused Atlanta of being unprogressive, though in blindness we have heretofore been perpetrating the economic folly of trying to pay for current needs out of current income and take care of permanent improvements from the same source.

The hospital and plaza developments foreshadow the dawn of reason. In that sense they are auguries of a historic nature.

THE ENGLISH STORM.

Persons who thought the high tide of public excitement in Great Britain had been reached with the agitation to "end or amend the lords," find their error in the current Irish home rule crisis. The situation is unique in contemporaneous British politics and unfortunately threatens to lash into life many of the ancient feuds and prejudices thought long since buried.

The storm center is the liberal proposal to grant home rule, the quest of the decades, to Ireland. The majority of the Irish population hold the Roman Catholic faith. The one province of Ulster is dominated by the Protestants. Ulster objects to a parliament which it is claimed would be controlled by a antagonistic to its religion. Hence, measures of repressive coercion on part of the government and of reputed armed resistance on part of Ulster.

Conditions would be bad enough if they were limited to these dimensions. But the partisan foes of the liberals, the conservative element, have dragged the issue into politics, rather selfishly and unparliamentarily, one would think since the settlement of the Irish question is a national and not a partisan one, and since it is difficult to see how the conservatives expect to solve the delicate problem to any better advantage than the means proposed by the liberals.

Adding fuel to the flames is the refusal of British army officers to participate in measures of coercion against Ulster. An equally distressing element is the fact that apparently King George seems to have invited a course upon which he is expected father was very slow to enter. It is alleged that George has given at least implied encouragement to the officers who are averse to serving in Ulster.

Such is the situation in a nutshell. Obviously, it is laden with dynamite. The solution is, of course, a domestic concern. But in America, where there are plenty of Protestant as well as Roman Catholic Irish, interest and solicitude will be keen. It should be remembered that the Irish question has been a source of much trouble to many a soldier and complex could have been adjusted without friction. But that matters should have been permitted to go present the country, upon which he is expected father was very slow to enter. It is alleged that George has given at least implied en-
to serving in Ulster.

"THE RIVER OF DOUBT."

As prophesied editorially in The Constitution recently, Colonel Roosevelt has emerged scot-free from the disaster which overtook his Brazilian expedition. The latest dispatch reports that he was not even with the party that upset its craft and lost the expedition. He has been seen getting a good ducking the Colonel, we are told, was in another part of the jungle exploring the Rio Duva, or "River of Doubt." Prophets mistaking a malady of great doubt for a malady of great doubt. Since first his star of destiny showed above the skyline, the Colonel has been sailing a river of doubt, specifically so in the minds of his enemies. He has always kept guessing. Never pretended to know where he would next break out. It might be in swelling the membership of the American club, swilling a malady of great wealth, running for president or proving the good but peace-loving Mr. Taft. Even now they are as much in the dark regarding his future and his intentions as they were when he received a roaring welcome on his return from Africa.

A river of doubt! That's the proverbial "Roosevelt luck" in half-breadth escape and in picking a picturesque named adventure at the psychological publicity moment. His ability to keep his foes and loving friends in doubt is one of the explanations of the Colonel's unquestioned hold on the American people.

WHO LEFT THE CAGE OPEN?

Somebody in or around the Mississippi legislature must have left the cage door open. There is hardly any other explanation for the persistent tendency of that distinguished body to indulge in freakish legislation. The cage door was left open and away from it. A few weeks ago the
